New: AI Document Classification NEW

Attorneys and pro se filers with electronic filing privileges may now upload a document below — our AI will identify the correct filing event and present docketing options automatically. If the classification cannot be determined, you will be prompted to select manually.

1 Upload document › 2 AI classifies filing type › 3 Complete docketing

After upload, the system will analyze your document and suggest the correct filing event. You will have the opportunity to confirm or override the classification before docketing is completed.

▶ Sealed documents must use the Filing menu at the top of the page and cannot be uploaded here.

▶ Scanned documents are generally not supported. However, common short-form filings — such as attorney admission forms and bills of costs — may be uploaded and will be processed automatically. For all other scanned materials, please use the Filing menu.

— or use another filing method —

Other ways to file:

- Review pending deadlines below, click on a deadline for the filing you are making, and complete docketing.
- Navigate to the Filing menu at the top of the page to manually select the event type and complete docketing.
